1. INTRODUCTION

The University of Notre Dame provides information technology resources to employees, students, and other affiliates for activities related to its mission of teaching and learning, research, and service. The University has an interest in conserving scarce resources and limiting access to only those individuals and entities who are actively involved in supporting the institution’s mission and goals.

A NetID plus a password is the primary authentication mechanism at the University. Possession of a NetID should not, in and of itself, authorize its owner to do, or have access to, any specific service.

2. POLICY STATEMENT

The University of Notre Dame grants access to University-owned information technology resources by issuing NetIDs to members of the Notre Dame community, persons affiliated with the University, and external consultants under contract. An individual will normally be assigned one personal NetID, and it will never be reassigned or transferred to another individual. A University department, organization or student group may request a NetID to use for e-mail not specific to an individual employee.

Individuals eligible for NetIDs include:
1. Regular and non-regular faculty;
2. Postdoctoral scholars (“post-docs”);
3. Full-time, part-time and temporary on-call staff;
4. Currently enrolled students, and prospective students who are admitted and confirmed;
5. Retired faculty and staff as provided in the Notre Dame Faculty & Administrator Plan, the staff Employee Pension Plan and the Academic Articles;
6. Members of the Congregation of Holy Cross who are directly engaged with the University;
7. Sponsored consultants with approval of the Chief Information Officer; and
8. Employees or members of specific institutions or programs affiliated or collaborating with the University with approval of the Chief Information Officer.

Unless they also belong to one of the foregoing groups, alumni of the University are not eligible for NetIDs.

The Chief Information Officer can revoke NetID privileges at his/her discretion.

The University will issue a department/organization NetID upon formal written request from an active faculty or staff member on behalf of a department or organization with whom he/she is affiliated. Each departmental/organization account must be associated with two faculty and/or staff members as owners of the account. A registered student organization can also obtain a departmental NetID by working through the Student Activities Office and completing the appropriate form.

The University will determine the level of authorized access, based on role, status or other criteria. Scope of NetID access varies with the affiliation, and may change. The Chief Information Officer is responsible for periodic reviews. Responsible University officials will reevaluate their sponsored affiliates annually to ensure that they remain eligible.

3. SCOPE

This Policy applies to all users of information technology resources owned and provided by the University of Notre Dame. In particular, individuals or departments of the University who are in a position to authorize access to University-owned information technology resources should familiarize themselves with this Policy.

Eligibility is based on information supplied by the Office of Human Resources or the Office of the Provost.

2. New faculty and staff acquire and activate their NetIDs and set passwords online by visiting https://accounts.nd.edu/activation, providing their ndID and birth date, and reading and agreeing to the Responsible Use of Information Technology Resources policy.

3. Continued eligibility is automatic and is based on official university records.

4. Campus units are responsible for ensuring that official university personnel records reflect new hires, terminated personnel, and changes in personnel status or position, to synchronize with the applicable monthly, semi-monthly and bi-weekly pay periods.

5. The University will disable access to faculty and staff member accounts following the end of employment.

6. Faculty and staff accounts may become inactive 15 days after the accounts are disabled. 15 days after inactivation, the account’s resources are removed. Retention of account data depends on policy for the account type.

7.2. Faculty and Staff Administrative Systems Access

1. Access to administrative systems is granted on a case-by-case basis as required by an individual’s professional responsibilities.

2. Persons needing access to University administrative data work through their campus unit’s Business Manager, who completes the appropriate forms and sends them to the relevant Data Steward for approval.

3. The Data Steward reviews and approves the application for access and notifies the OIT, where technical personnel make required entries to the administrative systems’ authorization mechanisms.

4. Campus units are responsible for ensuring that official university personnel records reflect new hires, terminated personnel, and changes in personnel status or position, to synchronize with the applicable monthly, semi-monthly and bi-weekly pay periods.

5. The University will disable access to administrative systems (for example, HR/Payroll, Finance, BuyND) immediately upon termination of employment for all faculty and staff.
